Natalie's Manifesto for London.

As an independent Mayor I will take a zero B.S. approach to rebuilding London.

I will be honest about the trade-offs and tell you where every penny of the budget is being spent. I will work with you, not against you.

Good Homes and Happy Neighbourhoods

You will see 40,000 affordable homes being built; not just to buy but also to rent. As part of my commitment to making sure everyone has a good home I am determined to end youth homelessness in London in my first four years. Homelessness is a political choice.

Safe Streets and

Local Police

You will know the name of your local Police Officers because they will be back on your high streets in 320 new neighbourhood centres that also have community support services co-located on site. Let's use our empty shops to make every street feel safe!

Well Communities and Better Lives

You will feel the buzz of London again. I will fiercely back freelancers and entrepreneurs and ensure that every young person has a high-quality job that meets their ambition. London will be a world leader in environmental stewardship and have a transport system that is affordable and equitable (north, south, east and west).
